

BEAR ON.

BY A. M. EDMONDS.

Bear on: what though life's tide may be
A current strong opposing thee:
And thou hast but a slender sail
To spread before the adverse gale;
When trials lash the waves to foam
And thou art far from friends and home.
Yield not thy spirit to despair,
But manfully the billows dare;
High o'er the waters dark and cold,
Fix thou the steadfast eye and hold,
Bear on, bear bravely on.

Bear on, the world may jeer and scoff,
And chosen friends may cast the off;
Stay not to weep, the brittle chain
One stormy wind could break in twain.
If thou hast found that heart untrue,
That was thy hope, thy idol too,
Sink not in sorrow's depths profound
Dispair can never heal the wound.
Give to the past no vain regret,
The future lies before you yet,
Bear on, bear bravely on.

Bear on: dost thy reining eye
See worthless men exalted high,
While modest merit sinks forlorn
In cold neglect and cruel scorn?
O never from thy tempted heart
Let thine integrity depart.
When disappointment fills thy cup
Undaunted, nobly drink it up.
Truth will prevail and justice show
Her tardy honors sure, but slow.
Bear on, bear bravely on.

Bear on: our life is not a dream,
Though often such its mazes seem;
We were not born to live of ease,
Ourselves alone to aid and please.
To each a daily task is given,
A labor which will fit for heaven;
When duty calls let love grow warm,
Amid the sunshine and the storm,
With Faith life's trials boldly breast,
And come a conqueror to thy rest.
Bear on: bear bravely on.

LITTLE EPIGRAM.—A gentleman who had lost his wife, whose maiden name was Little, addressed the following to Miss Moore, a lady of diminutive stature:

I've lost the Little one I had,
My heart is sad and sore;
So now I should be very glad
To have a Little Moore.

To which the lady sent the following answer:

I pity much the loss you've had,
The grief you must endure;
A heart by Little made so sad,
A Little Moore would cure.

LIVING AND MEANS.

The world is full of people who can't imagine why they don't prosper like their neighbors, when the real obstacle is not in banks nor tariffs, in bad public policy nor hard times, but in their own extravagance and heedless ostentation. The young mechanic or clerk marries and takes a house, which he proceeds to furnish twice as expensively as he can afford, and then his wife, instead of taking hold to help him to earn a livelihood, by doing her own work, must have a hired servant to help her struggling under a double load of debts and children, wondering why the luck was always against him, while his friends regret his unhappy destitution of financial ability. Had they from the first been frank and honest, he need not have been so unlucky.

Through every grade of society, this vice of inordinate expenditure insinuates itself. The single man, "hired out" in the country at ten to fifteen dollars per month, who tries to dissolve his ten years' earnings in frolic and fine clothes; the clerk who has three to five hundred dollars, and melts down twenty to fifty of it into liquor and segars, are paralleled by the young merchant, who fills his spacious house with costly furniture, give dinners, and drives a fast horse on the strength of the profits he expects to realize when his goods are sold and his notes all paid. Let a man have a genius for spending, and whether his income is a dollar a day, or a dollar a minute, it is equally certain to prove inadequate. If dining, wineing, and party giving won't help him through with it, building, gaming, and speculating will be sure to. The bottomless pocket will never fill, no matter how bounteous the stream pouring into it. The man who, (being single,) does not save money on six dollars per week, will not be apt to on sixty; and he who does not lay up something his first year of independent exertion, will be pretty likely to wear a poor man's hair to the grave.

BACHELOR'S REFLECTIONS.

Bless me! I am thirty-nine to-day; six feet in my stockings, black eyes, curly hair, tall and straight as a cedar of Lebanon, and still a bachelor! Well, it is an independent life, at least: no, it isn't, either!

Here are these new gloves of mine full of rips, string off one of my most faultless dickeries, nice silk handkerchief in my drawer wants hemming, buttons off my shirts; what's to be done? How provoking it is to see those married people looking so self-satisfied and consequential, at the head of their families; as if they had done the State great service. As to children, they are as plenty as flies in August, and about as troublesome; every alley and court and garret are swarmed with them—they're no rarity; and any poor, miserable wretch has a wife—enough of them, too, such as they are!

It is enough to scare a man to death to think how much it costs to keep one! Silks and satins, ribbons and velvets, feathers and flowers, cuff-pins and bracelets, gimcracks and fol-de-rols; and—you must look at the subject of its bearings—little jackets and frocks, and wooden horses, and dolls, and pop-guns, and ginger-bread; don't believe I can do it, by Jupiter! But then, here I sit with the toe of my best boot kicking the grate, for the want of something to do; it's coming awful cold, and dreary weather, long evenings; can't go to concerts forever, and when I do the room looks so much the gloomier when I come back, and it would be cozy to have a nice little wife to chat and laugh with. I've tried to think of something else, but I can't; if I look in the fire, I am sure to see a pair of bright eyes; even the shadows on the wall take fairy shapes; I'm on the brink of ruin—I feel it; I shall read my doom in the marriage list before long—I know I shall!

At the corner of Fourth and Locust streets, St. Louis, Mo.
WE would respectfully call attention to our stock of Fall & Winter Goods.

Just opened and ready for inspection.

Since moving into our new premises, corner of Fourth and Locust, our business has increased to such an extent as to warrant us in nearly doubling the usual amount of our FALL STOCK.
Our elegant Store Rooms up and down stairs are consequently crowded with the newest and most attractive Goods, embracing every desirable article in our line, from the plainest and cheapest Domestic Goods, up to the richest fabrics imported.

We would call special attention to our immense variety of

Cloth, do, Long and square, Broche and Plain Shawls; beautiful new style Scarfs, for Ladies and Misses; Moist Antiques, Brocade and Fancy Silks;
a magnificent stock of Black Silks, French Merinos, De Laines and Dress Goods, of every material; the largest stock of French Embroideries, Laces, and made up Lace Goods ever opened in Saint Louis;
Winter heavy and light
Fur cloaks, for Ladies and Children; House Furnishing Goods in great abundance.

IN A WORD, THE STOCK IS COMPLETE.
Families from the country are respectfully invited to visit our establishment; we promise them every facility for a thorough inspection of our stock, and an examination of our extensive premises.

Our system.
The following rules have been irrevocably established as the basis of all our business transactions:
Goods marked in plain figures, at the lowest Cash Prices.
No abatement in prices under any circumstances.
No one in the establishment allowed to importune visitors.
Misrepresenting the quality of Goods strictly forbidden.
The same Goods, the same prices and the same attention to all.

WHOLESALE DEPARTMENT.
Doing a wholesale city trade, we possess many advantages for JOBBING a large amount of Fancy Goods. Our second and third stories are therefore devoted to wholesale customers, and are amply supplied with such Goods as cannot be usually found at exclusive wholesale Houses.

We would like Country Merchants to call and examine our stock and prices, as we are anxious to do away with the very general impression that "Goods cannot be bought at wholesale on Fourth Street."

AYER'S PILLS.
For all the Purposes of a
FAMILY PHYSIC.

THERE has long existed a public demand for an effective purgative Pill which could be relied on as a safe and perfectly safe in its operation. This has been prepared to meet that demand, and an extensive trial of its virtues has conclusively shown what success it accomplishes the purposes designed. It is easy to make a physical Pill, but not so easy to make the best of all Pills—one which should have none of the objections, but all the advantages of every other. This has been attempted here, and with what success, we would respectfully submit to the public decision. It has been unfortunate for the patient hitherto, that almost every purgative medicine is acrimonious and irritating to the bowels. This is not. Many of them produce so much griping pain and redness in the system, as to more than counterbalance the good to be derived from them. There Pills produce no irritation or pain, unless it arises from a previously existing obstruction or derangement in the bowels. Being purely vegetable, no harm can arise from their use in any quantity, but it is better that any medicine should be taken judiciously. Minute directions for their use in the several diseases to which they are applicable, are given on the box. Among the complaints which have been speedily cured by them we may mention Liver Complaint in its various forms of Jaundice, Indigestion, Langour and loss of Appetite, Lowness, Irritability, Bilious Headache, Bilious Fever, Dysentery, Humors, Scrofula and Scurvy, Colds, with soreness of the body, Ulcers and impurity of the blood; in short, any and every case where a purgative is required.

They have also produced some singularly successful cures in Rheumatism, Gout, Dropsy, Gravel, Erysipelas, Pimples of the Face, pains in the back, stomach and side. They should be freely taken in the spring of the year, to purify the blood and prepare the system for the change of seasons. An occasional dose stimulates the appetite, cures indigestion, and restores the system to its normal state. They are pleasant to take, and being purely vegetable, no harm can arise from their use in any quantity.

For minute directions see the wrapper on the box.

AYER'S

CHEERRY PECTORAL

For the rapid Cure of

COUGHS, COLDS, HOARSENESS,

BRONCHITIS, WHOOPING-COUGH,

CROUP, ASTHMA, AND

CONSUMPTION.

This remedy has won for itself such notoriety for its cures of every variety of Pulmonary disease, that it is sure to receive the attention of the evidences of its virtues in any community where it has been employed. So wide is its field of usefulness, and so numerous the cases of its cures, that almost every section of our country should be in persons publicly known, who have been restored from alarming and even desperate diseases of the lungs from its use. When once tried its superiority over every other medicine of its kind is too apparent to escape observation, and where its virtues are known, the public no longer hesitate what to do to employ for the distressing and dangerous affections of the pulmonary organs which are incident to colds, and not only in fatal and formidable attacks upon the lungs, but for the milder varieties of Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, &c., and for Children, it is the pleasantest and safest medicine that can be obtained.

As this long been in constant use throughout this section, we need not do more than assure the people its quality is kept up to the best that it ever has been, and that the genuine article is sold by
